Headline:
Many places remaining dry this weekend, bright or sunny spells.

Today:
There will be often large amounts of cloud, but also bright or sunny spells, especially this afternoon. Cloud may be thick enough to bring a few light showers, these most likely across southern areas, but most places will remain dry. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with light winds and clear spells, although some patchy mist and low cloud may form. Fog possible in rural locations. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Sunday:
Any early mist and low cloud will clear, then dry with sunny spells, although cloud will increase from the west through the afternoon. Temperatures close to average. Light winds. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday cloudy with patchy light rain before heavy rain spreads east. Tuesday spells of rain, sometimes heavy, becoming drier later. Wednesday windy with heavy, perhaps thundery showers. Very mild.
